President Cites Nation's Economy

USW, Industry Stand Firm Despite Ike's Urgent Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel labor and management negotiators clung firmly to their entrenched positions today despite President Eisenhower's urgent new plea that the nation's economy requires a prompt settlement.

Neither side showed any sign of budging. The industry said again its proposals are fair and reasonable. And the union, without proffering any new terms, charged the employers were being obstinate.

Eisenhower, as part of his radio-TV address to the nation Thursday night before leaving on his goodwill mission abroad, said the nation's economy and its defense posture before the world are suffering from the threat of a renewed strike.

"Day after day, throughout the economy," the President said, "uncertainty, indecision and hesitation are growing as a result of this continuing controversy."

The dispute has been going on since May. A record 116-day strike ended a month ago under an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction that expires on Jan. 26. The union then will be free to strike again.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union chief, proposed Thursday night that the President's steel inquiry board make settlement recommendations. He said he was sure it would result in a prompt contract agreement.

There were a couple of serious drawbacks to this idea. One is that such Taft-Hartley law inquiry boards are apparently barred from making settlement recommendations. The other is that the industry is unwilling to go along.

McDonald, asked about the legal basis for his suggestion, said he thought it could be done if the industry agreed to the procedure.

R. Conrad Cooper, U. S. Steel Corp. vice president and top industry negotiator, accused the union of dodging its responsibility and trying to have a settlement "decreed by government action."

In Philadelphia, Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of the Eisenhower-appointed board, declined comment.

Eisenhower previously has sided with industry views that government boards should not ordinarily make labor dispute recommendations.

Gas Concern Seeks Speedy Rate Increase

Local Supplier Cites 'Emergency' In Plea To State's PUC

The Ohio Valley Gas Co., which serves East Liverpool and adjacent Ohio communities, announced today at Columbus it will ask emergency action by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission to increase rates in 24 Eastern Ohio towns.

The action would apply to the rates of 45,000 customers in the company's Steubenville Division — Columbiana, Belmont, Harrison, Jefferson and Monroe Counties.

"Increased costs of furnishing natural gas service make this step necessary," company President Allan W. Lundstrum wrote in a letter to the commission.

"For the 12 months ended Dec. 31, 1959, the company's actual operating costs will substantially exceed the revenues collected from customers in the eastern Ohio area," Lundstrum added.

Lundstrum said the company will make a formal filing with the commission about Jan. 4 to specify a rate that would give the firm partial relief.

Communities which would be involved in the proposed rate increase are:

East Liverpool, Steubenville, Martins Ferry, Bellaire, Wellsville, Stratton, Empire, Richmond, Hope, Toledo, Winterville, Mingo Junction, New Alexandria, Brilliant, Rayland, Tiltonsville, Yorkville, Bridgeport, Brookside, Shadyside, Clarington, Hannibal, Duffy and Sardis.

Utility Official Faces Examination On Rates

CHARLESTON — The Columbia Gas System executive called in to defend a 6.75 per cent return will be cross-examined Jan. 11 when hearings resume for rate cases involving three of its subsidiaries.

F. H. Crissman, vice president and chief financial officer for Columbia, testified Thursday that a 6-to-6.2-return would not be sufficient to pay for construction necessary to meet public service obligations.

The three Columbia subsidiaries — United Fuel Gas Co., Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and Amergas Gas Utilities Co. — want to increase their rates so as to realize a 6.75 per cent return. Their cases have been before the Public Service Commission for months.

Manufacturers now has in effect, under bond, the rates it wants approved. They mean about $2,057,000 more a year from its 49,000 customers in the Northern Panhandle.

Midland's Gas Firm Files Request For Hike

The Peoples Natural Gas Co. of Pittsburgh, which serves Midland, Beaver County, and some 13 other Western Pennsylvania counties, today asked the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission for a 1.4 per cent increase in rates.

The request was made to cover the cost of a 14-mill gross receipts tax which the Pennsylvania Legislature enacted during the present session in Harrisburg.

H. D. Borger, president, said the tax would increase the cost of providing service by about $900,000 yearly, and would reduce a rate of return of 6.1 — which the commission recently approved for a company increase — to less than 5.8 per cent, he said.

The increase, proposed to go into effect Feb. 4, would raise general service customer rates by about 6 cents a month and heating customers 22 cents.

The company will begin paying the tax Jan. 1.

Judges Back District Camp For Juveniles

Juvenile judges in the 18th congressional district approved plans for a proposed work camp for juvenile offenders at a meeting in Steubenville Thursday, according to Judge Louis Tobin, who presided.

As the next step, the judges will ask their county commissioners for up to $200 to obtain an investigation for plans and costs.

Judge Tobin said the camp would be used for "twilight offenders," who make up about 90 per cent of those now sent to the Boys Industrial School because there is no other place for them and they cannot be handled at home or in the welfare quarters.

Judge Tobin will contact Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to obtain an attorney — general's ruling on the legality of co-operating in establishing a joint camp for offenders of the five counties.

John R. Ferguson, chief of the Ohio Juvenile Division, said last year 1,656 boys were at the Boys Industrial School which was built to handle about 500.

He said the state is working on a five-year plan and has established the Zaleski State Forest Camp and if it is successful, others of this type may be set up, along with additional facilities.

All the jurists favored a farm or reforestation camp similar to the former Civilian Conservation Corps camps or those of the NYMA.

The judges are scheduled to meet again in January when — if commissioners of the counties involved provide funds for a survey — an investigator will be retained to study the proposals and suggest various plans.

A third meeting will then be slated to select a final plan, and submit it to the commissioners who will have the responsibility of constructing and maintaining the camp. Final approval will be sought from state officials with authority over the project.

A youth who is an habitual truant, commits a minor theft or is incorrigible at home is considered a twilight offender and eligible for the camp.

Present at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the Fort Steuben Hotel besides Judge Tobin were Judge Emmet Morrow of Jefferson County, Judge Harry Albright of Belmont County, Judge Ralph Battista of Carroll County and Judge Victor Rowland of Harrison County.

Also present were juvenile officers Chris Pusey and Cornelius Czepke, and Robert Bycroft, welfare director of Columbiana County; Oscar H. Burchfield and Mark N. Ross, probation officers of Jefferson County; Ferguson, William T. Almon, assistant director of the juvenile division and Gilbert Smith, former employee of the division.

Warming Trend May Send Mercury To 60

The warmest weather in a couple of weeks was embracing the Ohio Valley today and the Ohio weatherman said the mercury may climb to a balmy 60 degrees this afternoon.

The predicted high range was 55 to 60.

Tonight will be warm with a chance of rain but there will be a cooling trend for Saturday with possibly a chilly rain. The temperature may drop to near freezing tomorrow morning.

Brazil Rebels Charge Graft, Communism

Defiant Fliers Grab 5 Planes; Flee Deep Into Amazon Jungle

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Defiant air force officers waging a propaganda war against President Juscelino Kubitschek fled deeper into the Amazon jungles today. Rebels charge the Kubitschek regime is riddled with graft and communism.

They seized five planes Thursday and holed up in the tiny town of Aracaras, 1,100 miles northwest of Rio, but took off early today for a new base of operations, leaving behind a four-engine airliner with all but one of its passengers, the air force said.

It was reported they took as hostage Remi Archer, president of the Bank of Amazonia in Belem, who was flying home from Rio when the passenger plane was commandeered in flight and diverted to Aracaras.

The air force expressed belief the rebels—reported to number 17 to 27—may have fled to Cachimbo, 1,200 miles northwest of Rio; or to Jacareacanga, where a similar pocket revolt petered out in 1956.

Kubitschek's office said a message had been received from Archer, radioed at Aracaras, asking that his presence with the rebels not be held against him.

There was an apparent upswing in popular sentiment against the insurgents. Persons widely mentioned as antigovernment candidates for the presidential elections next October offered Kubitschek their backing.

Justice Minister Armando Falcão said the nation was calm but all army units were placed on the alert.

Auto Damages Fawcett Wall

A brick and tile retaining wall at Brady Alley and Fawcett St. was knocked down Thursday afternoon about 4:30 by a hit-and-run auto, police reported.

The wall was on the property of Mrs. Dudley Allen, 930 Bradshaw Ave., officers said. It was struck by an unidentified motorist who was attempting to turn around in the alley, witnesses told police.

The witness said the auto carried West Virginia plates.

Two autos were damaged in another mishap at 3 p. m. yesterday on Jefferson St. 25 feet north of W. 5th St., officers said.

A 1955 two-door sedan driven by James T. Curtis, 17, of 2021 Nevada St., Wellsville, struck a parked 1957 sedan owned by Harry R. Daugherty of Shadyside Ave., officers reported. The crash damaged the right front of the Curtis car and the left rear of the Daugherty auto, police said.

Curtis said he was driving north on Jefferson St. when a south-bound auto forced him to swerve, striking the parked car, police said.

Ike To Carry Friendship, Peace Theme

Renews Appeal For Steel Strike Accord In TV-Radio Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's real message to the world, says President Eisenhower, is "peace and friendship, in freedom."

The President hit hard on that theme Thursday night in a televised address to the nation just before leaving on a three-week trip that will take him half way around the world.

He described his trip as a mission of peace and good will.

He also renewed his appeal for an end to the steel strike, and said efforts to sustain the peace depend on a healthy economy.

He spoke of "a peaceful barrier, erected by freedom" in plugging for mutual security or foreign aid spending.

The President spoke from his White House office.

"I shall try to convey to everyone our earnestness in striving to reduce the tensions dividing mankind—an effort first requiring, as indeed Mr. Khrushchev agrees, the beginning of mutual disarmament," he said. "Of course, I will stress that the first requirement for mutual disarmament is mutual verification."

With the spirit of Camp David still prevailing, this was the only reference to the Soviet leader in Eisenhower's 15-minute address.

Nowhere in his address did the President use the words "Communist" or "communism."

His references to the communist threat came in these passages. "For years doubts about us have been skillfully nurtured in foreign lands by those who oppose America's ideals."

"Our mutual undertakings support those who strive to forestall aggression, subversion and penetration."

"In a world sorely troubled by an atheistic imperialism, (foreign aid) is a strong instrument of hope and encouragement."

Eisenhower said "I hope to make this truth clear—that, on all this earth, not anywhere does our nation seek territory, selfish gain or unfair advantage for itself. I hope all can understand that beyond her shores, as at home, America aspires only to promote human happiness, justly achieved."

Hospital authorities reported 200 counted dead.

Officials believed about 100 persons were missing, some buried under silt which lay nine feet deep in places. But they said this estimate was based on requests from relatives of those not yet found, and there might be more.

Only one foreigner, a Belgian, was reported dead.

About 65 were injured. Some 30 were still hospitalized.

The mass funeral was asked by officials in an effort to clear crowded hospitals — where shrouded bodies lined the corridors—and make room for the living.

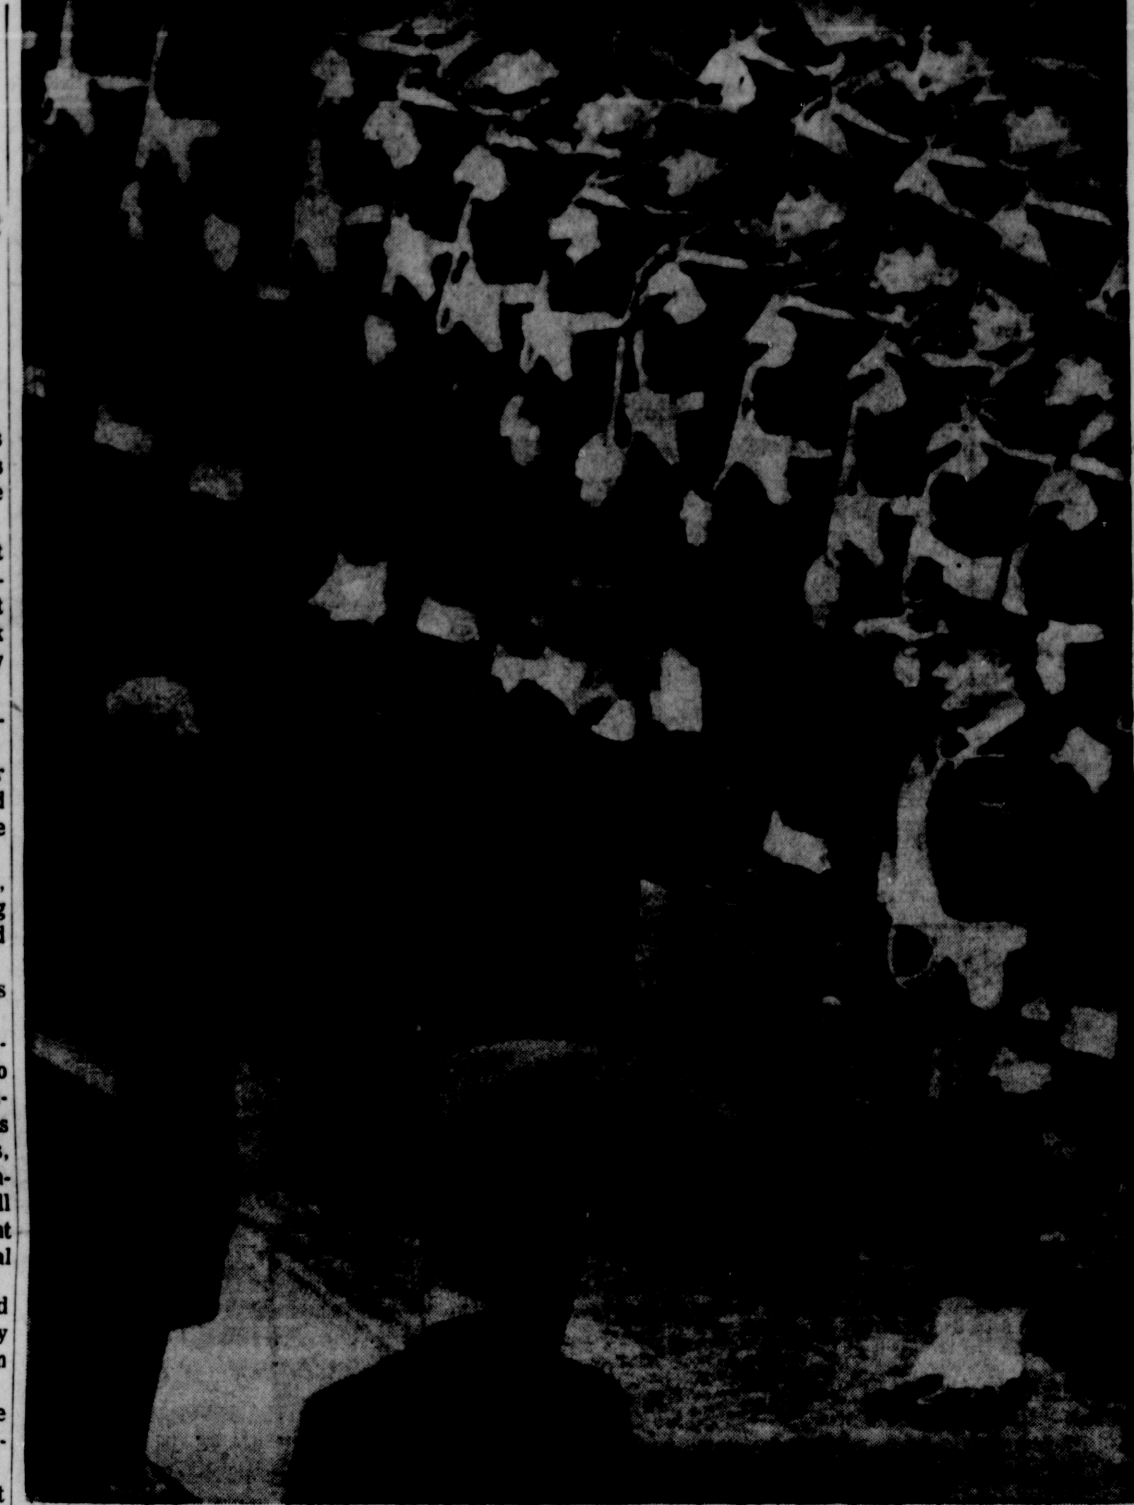

Helicopters, ambulances and some 5,000 troops fanned out over the four-mile-long Reyran River valley, where the Malpasset Dam crumbled Wednesday night, sending a raging wall of water through the low country to the Mediterranean.

Work teams carrying food and fresh water moved into isolated areas to aid survivors.

Officials decided on a hastily arranged mass funeral this afternoon for as many as possible of the identified victims. The burial site is Frejus Cemetery, in a high part of the town that escaped the flood.

Scores of other bodies draped in sheets were placed in rows along corridors of the Frejus Hospital and in makeshift morgues at St. Raphael and Puget-Sur-Argens. Hosts of stricken relatives of the missing paced slowly back and forth scanning the uncovered faces.

The difficulty of estimating the toll was underscored by Georges Galichon, chief aide to French Interior Minister Pierre Chatenet.

More Victims Hunted In France

Mass Funeral Set For 110 After Dam Break Disaster

FREJUS, France (AP) — Rescue teams slogged through muck and debris today, searching for more victims of the Malpasset Dam disaster. Grieving relatives prepared for a mass funeral of 110 dead.

Hospital authorities reported 200 counted dead.

Officials believed about 100 persons were missing, some buried under silt which lay nine feet deep in places. But they said this estimate was based on requests from relatives of those not yet found, and there might be more.

Only one foreigner, a Belgian, was reported dead.

About 65 were injured. Some 30 were still hospitalized.

The mass funeral was asked by officials in an effort to clear crowded hospitals — where shrouded bodies lined the corridors—and make room for the living.

Helicopters, ambulances and some 5,000 troops fanned out over the four-mile-long Reyran River valley, where the Malpasset Dam crumbled Wednesday night, sending a raging wall of water through the low country to the Mediterranean.

Scores of other bodies draped in sheets were placed in rows along corridors of the Frejus Hospital and in makeshift morgues at St. Raphael and Puget-Sur-Argens. Hosts of stricken relatives of the missing paced slowly back and forth scanning the uncovered faces.

The difficulty of estimating the toll was underscored by Georges Galichon, chief aide to French Interior Minister Pierre Chatenet.

After touring the disaster area, which stretches more than four miles back from the Mediterranean to the dam site, Galichon reported that more than 100 homes were ripped from their foundations by the water.

Red Cross officials, military personnel and residents of nearby communities distributed food, limited supplies of drinking water and clothing among the survivors.

The homeless were housed in schools or taken into private homes that escaped the flood.

Officials still could find no explanation for the break in the 185-foot-high steel and concrete dam that unleashed nearly 10 billion gallons — or 49 million cubic meters — of water on the sleeping valley below. The dam's designated holding capacity was 52 million cubic meters.

The buildup of water resulted from five days of steady rain.

Eisenhower emerged smiling, bareheaded but looking a little tired from the trip. He set foot on Italian soil for his fifth visit to Rome at 12:22 p.m.

A band hurriedly played excerpts from the American and Italian national anthems, there was a quick exchange of greetings and then the officials hurried to the airport veranda for the welcoming speeches.

The spectators applauded heartily as the President arrived and at the conclusion of the translation of his remarks. Outside the airport, another crowd cheered in the rain as the two presidents drove off for the trip into Rome over the 2,000-year-old Appian Way.

Despite the rain, small crowds of Italians under umbrellas lined Rome streets to watch the President go by on his way to the 400-year-old Quirinal Palace, his residence for his two-day stay in Rome. The weather kept the numbers of the crowd down, but those who did turn out cheered lustily.

Drowned was Robert Pratt, 7 months. The second child, Laurel, 2, was missing and presumed drowned.

Communists Participate In Greeting

Ike Tells Greeters His Message One Of Peace, Friendship

ROME (AP) — Ancient Rome gave President Eisenhower a rainy but warm welcome today at the start of his 22,000-mile "mission of peace and good will."

Even the Communists, taking a cue from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, joined in the welcome with banners saying: "Communists of Rome salute President Dwight Eisenhower."

A heavy overcast and the rain resulted in a 20-minute delay in landing.

The American President told greeters at Rome's Ciampino Airport that his message for each of the 11 countries he visits is one of friendship and freedom, and he hopes it "will be heard in every country where communications are allowed freely."

Eisenhower expressed pleasure in landing "in this great city which was for so long the very center of all Western civilization."

He said he was glad to come to Italy, too, because of the "ties of blood which unite our two countries." He noted that millions of Americans sprang from Italian origins, "so our friendship is not merely official, but comes from the people, from relatives clasping hands across the sea."

The President said he looked forward with eagerness to his talks here with President Giovanni Gronchi, Premier Antonio Segni and other Italian leaders concerning his search for "peace with justice" in the world.

Gronchi hailed the American President's "great political sagacity" and his humanity in undertaking his historic mission.

And Rome's Mayor Urbano Ciocchetti assured Eisenhower that the Italian capital "looks at you with profound sympathy and will follow with very warm hopes the delicate and generous mission that you have undertaken, following the impulse of your spirit."

The big jet airliner that flew the President across the Atlantic overnight from Washington circled the airport for 26 minutes before it came in for a landing.

Airport sources later revealed it made a ground-controlled landing, because of the weather and also because the plane's electronic landing equipment was not functioning properly.

While Italian government officials watched anxiously, the big jet swung down to a perfect landing, sending up a cloud of spray from puddles on the field.

Eisenhower emerged smiling, bareheaded but looking a little tired from the trip. He set foot on Italian soil for his fifth visit to Rome at 12:22 p.m.

A band hurriedly played excerpts from the American and Italian national anthems, there was a quick exchange of greetings and then the officials hurried to the airport veranda for the welcoming speeches.

Kiwanis Sees Rescue Movie

Three simple steps in mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing were emphasized in a 22-minute Red Cross film screened for the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

The color film depicted the simplified method approved by first aid officials for reviving victims of near drowning, electrical shock, asphyxiation or other accidents which cause unconsciousness and loss of natural breathing.

Such victims are placed upon their backs. Then the rescuer tilts the victim's head back and pulls the jaw forward in order to clear the throat of the tongue's blocking. The nostrils are pinched shut to prevent air from leaking.

The rescuer then places his mouth around the victim's and blows air into the mouth until the victim's chest rises. The rescuer removes his mouth to let the air escape, then repeats the blowing, keeping the victim's jaw out and head back at all times.

Alvin Arner, program chairman, said the method is ages old, referring to a passage in the Bible in which a small child was similarly revived.

Arner said a person can live only a short while without breathing, and police, firemen or ambulance attendants can rarely reach a stricken victim within three or four minutes.

He said it is vital that everyone be familiar with the simple rescue breathing procedure in order to be able to save the life of a friend or loved one.

Court Income Changes Little

Municipal Court's overall income of $3,060 in November was virtually unchanged from October, as was the $2,700 the court turned over to the city treasury, Clerk Harold L. Powell said today in his monthly report.

The total income last month was down $13 from October's $3,073. The amount turned over to the city for last month was up just $2 from the city's share of $2,698 in October.

The city's share was comprised of $2,252 in fines, costs and forfeitures from city criminal cases, $143 in fines and forfeits from State Highway Patrol cases and $304 in costs from civil cases.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $143 to the state treasurer from penalties in Highway Patrol cases; $141 to the county — also from state cases — and $75 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount received and disbursed by the court in November was $4,527, an increase of $543 from the $3,984 handled in October. The court handled $1,787 in the civil branch last month, compared with $1,115 in the preceding month, and $2,740 in the criminal branch, compared with $2,869 in October.

The funds include money received and turned over to plaintiffs and creditors from trusteeships, judgments and garnishee fees in civil cases and refunded bonds in criminal actions.

A breakdown of cases showed: 35 civil cases filed, 181 disposed of and 59 left pending; 69 city criminal cases filed, 67 disposed of and 28 left pending, and 42 state criminal cases filed, 42 disposed of and 87 left pending.

Firm To Sign Contract For Sewer Relocation

Sikora Brothers Excavating Co. of Poland is expected to turn over to the city within a few days a signed contract for an $80,656 project for the first phase of relocation of the Carpenters Run trunk line sanitary sewer, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

Sikora submitted the low bid when sealed offers were opened in late October. After the offer was recommended by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, consulting engineer, and forwarded to the regional office of the Department of Health Education and Welfare for approval, the Board of Control awarded the contract Nov. 25.

Contract forms were sent to Sikora a few days after the offer was accepted. The bidder had 10 days from receipt of the forms in which to sign the contract, which means action will be taken not later than the middle of next week, Ross said.

Mickey Cohen, Pals Jailed In Bookie Killing

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Underworld figure Mickey Cohen and several cronies were locked up today in the killing of a hoodlum who died as he lived — a tough guy.

Jack Whalen, 41, a bookie known for brutality, was shot in the head Wednesday night. Cohen sat six feet away in the crowded restaurant.

Police booked on suspicion of murder: Cohen; Miss Claretta (Sandy) Hashagen, 18-year-old dancer-model, his date; George Bart Piscitelle, alias George Perry, 28, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Tony Reno, 25, singer known also as Anthony Amereno.

The bookings admittedly were intended to give police a chance to question the prisoners at length. Cohen denied any part in the killing.

Stories of the killing varied widely. But they agreed on one thing. Whalen was roughing up a man who presumably owed a gambling debt.

Police were told that Whalen visited several bars, apparently looking for someone. He was reportedly out to collect a $900 gambling debt.

Cohen, an ex-bigtime bookie and an ex-convict, has witnessed many gangland slayings—some of them aimed at him. He personally shot and killed rival gambler Maxie Shuman in 1945, he told police, claiming self defense. He was cleared.

Salem Man Given Term

LISBON — James E. Loadman, 19, of Salem was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail by County Judge James L. MacDonald after he was found guilty of petty larceny in the theft of two tires Wednesday from Mrs. James R. Ray of New Waterford R. D. 1, the complainant.

Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox stole 56 bases in 69 attempts in 1959. He was thrown out twice at third base and once at home plate.

Traffic Death Climb Halts

CHICAGO (AP) — The steep, steady climb of the nation's traffic death toll has been halted. The October total was five per cent below the tally for October, 1958. It was the first month of this year to show a decline. And the number of fatalities, 3,420, was the lowest for any October in 10 years.

The National Safety Council, in reporting the figures today, said the toll for the first 10 months of this year was 30,560—two per cent

The decrease was recorded in October after monthly increases that ranged as high as eight per cent early in the year.

Disabling injuries in traffic accidents through the first 10 months of this year were estimated at 1,100,000.

The Council also estimated that travel in the first 10 months of this year was up four per cent compared with the corresponding period of last year.

The January - through - October mileage death rate — number of fatalities per 100 million miles of travel—was 5.3, the lowest on record for the period covered.

The Furtive Pitchman Now Goeth

A lot of television viewers were happy to read about the latest development in network efforts to cleanse the industry of some of its more deceitful practices.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has announced it will ban commercials that plug products other than those of the regular sponsors. This takes in so many forms of paid-for under-the-table publicity that it is hard to remember them all at one sitting.

The order is aimed primarily at the practice of charging manufacturers for the privilege of supplying prizes on giveaway shows. After Jan. 1, says CBS, the prizes will have to be paid for out of production budgets just as other stage properties are.

The new rule also includes those tacked-on plugs for the transportation facilities that carried show participants to the city of the program's origination. Getting to where one has to be to do his work is purely a routine matter, and it seems a little ridiculous to make a point of saying how he got there.

Most satisfying of all is the news that the order is expected to eliminate a pet peeve of many viewers—plugs by TV personalities for commercial ventures in which they have an interest. If carried to its proper conclusion, this should stop irrelevant references to new books about to be put on sale, new plays about to be staged, other television shows about to appear, new movies about to be released and new records about to be distributed.

It also should put a halt to references to the creator of the gown the actress happens to be wearing ("happens" is not the right word—she planned to wear it because she gets to keep it if she mentions on the air who made it).

The galling thing about these practices is that they attempt to bestow an aura of objective dignity on self-motivated interests. They are only a shade above the insidious invention of subliminal advertising—the quick-flash gimmick designed to drive commercials into the viewer's subconscious mind so he wouldn't know what hit him.

The new CBS policy should help remove the crass commercialism that has irritated viewers and kept television from reaching the level any medium of communication has a responsibility to strive for.

Foreign Aid Geared To Results

A whirlwind inside a gale inside a tornado is getting all the attention at the moment, but the issue of birth control in the United States has nothing to do with the issue of U.S. foreign aid in countries that live on the brink of famine.

The issue in those countries and in U.S. quarters that are concerned with getting results for foreign aid spending has nothing to do with religion.

It is concerned solely with the practicality of trying to help people whose sheer numbers stifles every program for improving their lot.

Every net addition to the food supply of a country whose masses are on a subsistence diet merely assures there will be more mouths to feed from the same inadequate food supply in the future.

It is like a dairy farmer in the United States trying to maintain an ever-growing herd of milch cows on a fixed acreage. Even by using the best farming methods, the farmer is limited in what can be grown by the size of his productive acreage. He must stabilize his herd, unless he can add to his yield.

In a country like India, the potentialities of aid can go no further than the ability of the Indians to catch up to the needs of an already unwieldy population. If it continues to grow at the current rate, there simply is no way to improve the lot of India and the United States would be well advised to save its money.

That is the issue to be settled. That was the issue described in the Draper Report on the foreign aid program—the report that started the discussion.

Either foreign aid must show results, or threaten famine perennially, foreign aid is unlikely to show results and therefore should be open to challenge as an unwise expenditure. In countries whose soaring populations make it appear that Seaway hopes were too conservative rather than too exuberant, some ports were no better prepared than they would have been if they never had heard of the Seaway before the first salt-encrusted foreign-registry ships inched into view.

Shipping is a rough, tough, knock-down-and-drag-out business. The Seaway must sell itself to hard-bitten owners. Shippers must want to use it for mass volume operations. The Seaway's operators must prove they can iron out vexing wrinkles like the Welland Canal. Lake ports must prove they can knock off their endless bickering and drowsy apathy long enough to do the job they have been pleading for a chance to try. Union corruption like that which has jacked up the price of using Atlantic ports must be cauterized as fast as it appears.

Just because a lot of people came to the gala opening does not mean they will be back to spend their money when the bands quit playing.

Sullivan's Oneco, where the vaudeville greats holed up. The Palace, once the most sumptuous vaudeville house in the East, is to be razed soon. Both knew the too show people of the past: the Four Cohans, Ward & Vokes, Houdini, Keller the Birdman, the Russell Brothers, the Virginia Judge, Lew Dockstadter, Annette Kellerman, Eva Tanguay, Eddie Foy, Honey-Boy Evans, etc.

It was at the Palace that, as a kid, we first saw Ed Wynn. In his first vaudeville act, wholly dependent on funny hats. What a saga of show biz!

Sylvester Poli came to America as an immigrant and opened up a small museum, and with his wife moulded the wax figures. In a few years he built the Bijou where we got our first gander at movies, largely of lo-cumotives. Then came the huge Palace where for years the movies were used at the end of eight vaudeville acts to "chase" audiences OUT!

Tom Sullivan's Oneco, across the street, was known to thousands of vaudeville folks as one of their road "homes." Poli died years ago, but the beautiful girl who carved the wax figures with him over a half-century ago celebrated her 91st birthday the other day.

Odd Facts

Up to a few years ago, the greatest part of America's contributions to medical science were of Indian origin. Such remedies as quinine, cocaine, cascara, sagrada, epeac, witch hazel, oil of wintergreen, petroleum jelly, arnica, and numerous others, were known and used by Indians long before the coming of the first white physician to America.

Although tradition says the forbidden fruit which Adam and Eve ate in the Garden of Eden was an apple, the Bible does not give any name to the fruit. In the East, however, there is a belief that the "tree of knowledge of good and evil" was a banana plant and that the serpent which tempted Eve was hidden in a bunch of the fruit.

Oldest printed book in the world is the Chinese Diamond Sutra, in the British Museum. This was printed from wood blocks on paper and bears the date A.D. 868. It was found in 1900 in a secret walled chamber in a Buddhist shrine in Turkestan.

Like A Rabbit At A Dog Track

John L. Readies For Action

By Victor Riesel

"The Man" against whom American presidents have hurled themselves futilely for some 40 years once more is surveying the land. Once more he is unloosing his legions across every state.

Of course "The Man" is John L. Lewis, now almost a Churchillian 80. Lewis' step is slower. But not his mind and not his 275 organizers who have suddenly picked up speed.

They are part of the 500-man staff of "kid" brother A. D. (Denny) Lewis, now almost 71. They are the forces of famed old District 50, the catch-all which John L. once dreamed of welding into a mighty labor federation.

Denny and John have kept the district operating quietly while other labor leaders have thundered across the very stage from which the elder used to hurl verbal bolts, some Shakespearean but mostly Lewisian.

There have been ample funds for District 50. Enough to keep 67 regional offices active from "Maine to California to Florida—in the big cities, along the rivers, everywhere," as Denny Lewis outlined it to me the other day. He explained that District 50 of the legendary United Mine Workers has locals in "every one of the 3 basic industries."

IN WASHINGTON, where the Miners Union controls the National Bank of Washington, now probably the third largest of the District of Columbia's 12 major financial institutions, Denny has a staff larger than many international unions. There are four special assistants working directly for A.D. Under them are 75 others.

District 50 is really a major union within a union. "Sure our biggest strength is in the chemical industry but now we'll organize wherever they want us," Denny said, as strong voiced as when I first heard him as a kid reporter.

"The other outfits are ignoring the little fellows. We'll take anyone who wants us, whether it is a paper box plant or a machine shop."

"We've got an organization in the field. In every one of those 67 regional headquarters we've a director and a secretary and they're giving leadership. We've challenged the AFL-CIO in 59 plants since mid-September and we're beating them about 65 per cent of the time," he said.

This is the moment the Brothers Lewis have been awaiting. Two years ago, John L. turned to a friend in his top floor office, there under the famed chandelier built around a pickaxe and said, "Just you watch, American industry will take on Walter Reuther and Dave McDonald. It will be a long, long battle."

LEWIS RECKONED that the employers would stand all along the line, even in the coal fields. He knew he too was in for trouble.

True the coal associations were giving his miners heavy increases as more and more modern machinery dug up the black fuel instead of the hundreds of thousands of men who had once worked in the pits. But hundreds of mine owners were beginning to fight the United Mine Workers despite the advice of their fellow operators.

Thus, one-fifth of the nation's coal industry now is non-union. Where there had been 400,000 soft coal diggers in the union, there are now only 180,000 going down into the pits regularly.

Furthermore, the union is being sued frequently and in many instances the non-union mine owners have been collecting damages. These they claimed were wrought by Lewis' unionizing drives.

Though the Mine Workers Union treasury is substantial, Lewis and his executive board levied a $20-a-man assessment on the soft coal diggers.

The United Mine Workers needed three million dollars to handle these suits and the awards against the union.

Lewis, having just gotten his men a $10-a-week raise, believed they should contribute to the struggle. He wanted them to understand the serious threat to the UMW itself and not feel they were just on the receiving end.

Then last September Lewis got his chance to recoup. Congress changed the labor law of the land. No longer is it necessary to sign a non-Communist affidavit to be eligible to challenge the AFL-CIO in National Labor Relations Board elections.

Lewis had always proudly refused to dignify the oath. To swear that he was not a Communist would demean him, he had said.

When the law was changed, the Brothers Lewis moved into action—and if they are as they were of old, things soon will be stirring across the land.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I used to laugh my head off at old Frank Padgett when he'd start off a friendly discussion around the store stove by asking if anyone present knew anything about the habits of beavers, for instance.

If the answer was No, old Frank would hitch up his pants, rear back in his chair and say, "Well, then, I can speak freely." With him, that was a joke.

But when it's done without warning, it isn't funny, is it? Your letter made it plain you were not amused about discussions that ramble on and on with no information in them—just hearsay malice. When they have bearing on decisions that people make at the polls, discussions like that can be murder.

One of our school board members told me the other day about something that happened to him just before last Election Day. He and his wife were buying groceries. He met one of his constituents, also buying groceries. The constituent wanted to discuss the proposed school levy.

It was obvious from the first word that the constituent did not know what he was talking about. One of the high points of his ignorance was a charge that the board had wasted taxpayers' money by including two swimming pools in the new high school. In spite of the fact the building had been in use three years and was under construction for two years before that, the constituent never had gone to see for himself; he was taking somebody else's word for it.

He would not take the board member's word that he had been misinformed. He insisted that building had two swimming pools in it—and next thing he knew he was being puppet-propelled out of the store and into the board member's car. He was told if he could find any pool in the building when he inspected it, the board member would buy his groceries. Of course, he could find none. It was the first time he ever had seen his own school. But it was not the first time, unfortunately, he had shot off his mouth.

It makes me impatient. In my glum moments, I doubt if popular government can survive the sum total of human perversity that militates against its success. Self rule depends on the willingness of people to find out what is going on, and as you have learned to your sorrow people will fight tooth and nail to keep from finding out what is going on. If they ever learned, they would have to ditch their prejudices, and nothing is harder to part with than a red-hot prejudice based on ignorance.

But this does not make me despondent, which is where I differ from you. Whereas you find proof in things like this that the world ain't what it's cracked up to be I find proof that the way things are cracked up to be ain't the world.

I see nothing to be gained by wishing for something that never was and never can be. If the source of my closely restrained optimism by concentrating on what has been and what can be.

Every now and then, things turn out somewhat better than we have any cause to believe they will—and that keeps me optimistic. Blind hogs do find acorns. Some clouds do have silver linings. And particularly at this time of the year there is an incredible amount of brotherly love if you look for it.

Don't feel morose about the manhandling of vital problems by knuckleheaded wrongers. I read "Exodus" by Leon Uri and believe me if anyone ever lousies up anything worse than the ironheaded British lousied up the Palestine problem it will be worth another best seller to tell about it. But finally the Jews did get their homeland and the British did get their come-uppance at the hands of the Arabs. These things work themselves out. Give our regards to your folks.

Nepotism Hysteria

By David Lawrence

Relatives On Payroll Get Unjust Criticism

Supposing it were proposed that a law be passed forbidding any near or distant relative of any member of Congress to hold any job at the Capitol — wouldn't this be regarded as an invasion of the rights of a citizen?

Judging, however, by the hysteria surrounding the disclosure of the payroll records of members of Congress, such a law now would appear to be a logical corollary.

Yet an erroneous impression is created by the grouping of relatives and non-relatives of senators and representatives without regard to whether they are efficient employees deserving of the pay they get or have been put on the payroll as a gift.

There are articulate persons in our midst who usually rise up to express their indignation when the individual rights of a citizen are impaired.

They call themselves "civil liberty" organizations. They are quick to protest when any adverse action touches even remotely the Communist cause.

After all, they argue, it is unjust to indict a whole class of citizens because some among them have been or may be found wanting.

It is a safe assumption that the crusaders will not cry out against the injustice done the innocent citizens who happen to be relatives of members of Congress and who happen also to be employees chosen by senators and representatives to do some of the administrative or clerical work of their offices.

MANY A MEMBER of Congress has a difficult problem in choosing a private secretary. His wife may have been employed in such a capacity before their marriage. She may have worked without pay during his campaign. She knows the people in his district. She knows the problems of the state.

Is she to be deprived of the right to serve in a job for which she is qualified just because her husband happens to be a member of Congress?

Is she to be denied the right to serve her own government because she is related to a member of Congress by marriage?

Is a brother or a nephew or a cousin to be similarly disqualified irrespective of his capacity or ability?

Not long ago the hue and cry was against "guilt by association." Resentment was widely expressed against the publicity that cast suspicion on a group of Americans without specifying those that were guilty or even suspected of guilt.

The linking of the good with the bad was denounced as unjust and as the result only of what was called "mass hysteria." Congressional committees themselves were accused of such mass condemnation.

Today some members of the Washington press itself must take much of the responsibility for the consequences of the latest crusade. A worthy cause — the right to know what the government is doing with taxpayers' money — led at the last session of Congress to the passage of a resolution forcing disclosure of Senate as well as House payrolls.

This is proper but it is just to lump together everybody on those payrolls who is related to a member of Congress and give the impression that they are all tarred with the same brush?

Three headlines blazoned across the front pages of Eastern newspapers on Tuesday morning read, respectively, "Kin of 20 senators are shown on payroll," "20 Senators list 26 relatives on payroll," and "17 Senators' kin found on payroll."

THE DOCUMENT disclosing the names on the Senate payroll did not distinguish between relatives and non-relatives. It was merely a list of employees of each senator and representative.

Was it not the duty of the press, if it chose to single out the relatives of members of Congress on the payroll, to state also the nature of the work done and give to the public a balanced report, if not judgment, on the qualifications of each worker to hold the job in question?

It was necessary to point the finger of suspicion at all those employees who happen to be relatives of members of Congress — the efficient as well as the inefficient, those who give a full day's work for the pay received as well as the idlers?

It will be responded that this is but one way to ferret out abuses. But was it fair to print the names of all the senators and representatives who have relatives on the payroll before ascertaining those guilty of a misuse of government money?

It would appear that those senators and representatives who employ relatives have been placed on the defensive and now must explain to their constituents just what each relative does and why the selection was made.

All this simply means that, due to the expose, it is today apparently regarded as wrong or improper for a senator or representative to hire any relative no matter how efficient he or she may be.

So, even though no law against the employment of relatives has been enacted, mass hysteria is producing the same result.

An Optimistic Eisenhower

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Historians will have to list optimism among President Eisenhower's most persistent traits.

As he departed on his 11-nation pilgrimage Thursday night he still seemed optimistic about the steel dispute. Yet, so far for him this has been a steady frustration going back to last spring.

All three things he wanted to avoid have happened: A strike, inflation, and government interference. To complete the irony Eisenhower, who protested against interference, has been accused of interfering himself.

1. There is still no settlement in this steel dispute which began with the negotiations opening May 5 and turned into a strike July 15. The strike, longest in steel history, lasted 116 days, was finally stopped for 90 days by court injunction.

Now, unless settlement is reached within these 90 days, the strike begins again. Eisenhower wants to avoid a second strike.

2. The President wanted to avoid inflation through an upward thrust of steel wages and prices. But the long strike itself has already caused some inflation, since the result of it was loss of revenue to the government.

The lost revenue means government income in fiscal 1960, ending next June 30, will almost surely be less than government spending, thus creating a deficit for the fifth year in a row.

3. Eisenhower wanted both sides to reach agreement by themselves without government interference. But the government had to interfere, through the 90-day injunction to stop the strike. It may have to act again to prevent another strike.

And AFL-CIO President George Meany has accused Eisenhower himself of interfering on the side of the steel industry — with his caution about inflation before free, collective bargaining had a chance to begin.

Just before he embarked by plane for Rome Eisenhower called on both sides—as he did as long ago as March 25—to settle their problem. But he gave them a warning, even though it may have seemed mild.

He said if the union and the industry can't act responsibly, their countrymen will see that they do. He used the word "countrymen" as a synonym for the government. He meant government. Nevertheless, his optimism still showed through.

"What great news it would be if, during the course of this journey, I should receive word of a settlement of this steel controversy," he said in his talk Thursday night.

Last March 25 when Eisenhower asked both sides to reach a non-inflationary settlement in the negotiations due to begin in May, he indicated he would not stand idly by if a wage boost pointed to a price boost in steel.

Whether he still feels that way — after what the 116-day strike has done to the economy — or would just be happy if there was some kind of settlement, whether or not it caused more inflation, is not clear.

In his talk his anxiety seemed mostly directed at a renewal of the strike. He didn't say anything about price boosts. He did say he wanted a settlement fair to all sides, including the public.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Nov. 8 Eisenhower would send Congress, when it returns in 1960, recommendations for ending the strike if it starts up again.

The proposal The Steelworkers Union made Thursday night — that it is willing to make a settlement within the framework of recommendations made by a presidential board of inquiry — may turn out to be nothing more than just another maneuver.

There is a legal tangle on the question of whether the board, under law, can make any recommendation at all.

More than 50 per cent of the world's children do not receive any kind of education at all, according to the UN Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Association Holds Dinner

120 At Mortgage Burning Rite Of Glenmoor Firemen

About 120 attended a dinner and mortgage burning ceremony of the Glenmoor Firemen's Association Thursday night at the fire station. The incineration of the $7,000 mortgage on the fire station marked completion of payment of the structure dedicated in 1949.

Taking part in the ceremony were Milton Stewart of Cadiz, president in 1949; Theodore Appleby of Wellsville R. D. 1, treasurer at the time; Clarence Robinson and Leslie Conn of Glenmoor, charter members; Devine Banks, current president, and Leonard Congrove, present secretary.

Stewart described the organization of the volunteer group in 1948, and the purchase of a truck which was rebuilt and remodeled into a fire truck originally housed in a garage.

Meetings were held at the school, 40 & 8 hall and a storeroom before the construction of the fire station. Stewart also listed various plays, dances and other projects held to raise money for the department.

The group paid off a $1,000 mortgage in 2 years, and purchased a pickup truck which was rebuilt into a utility fire truck used to fight field and woods blazes. This smaller truck was demolished in a traffic crash in April.

Charter members were introduced and spoke briefly. Women guests and members of the auxiliary were also recognized. The dinner was served by the auxiliary. Banks was master of ceremonies, and Tom Wooster gave prayer. E. H. Chesnut was chairman of the dinner committee which included Congrove and Wilmer Bryson.

The association will meet Dec. 17. The firemen will meet Thursday night.

The Board of Control today authorized payment of $1,500 to H. & H. Contractors, 454 Fox Alley, for blacktopping of a new city parking lot on W. 6th St. opposite City Hall and two others at 3rd and Market Sts.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, who comprise the board, authorized the payment at a session this morning at which several other minor items of business were cleared away.

H. & H. billed the city $650 for blacktopping the lot on W. 6th and $650 for surfacing two municipally-owned lots on Market at 3rd. Meters are scheduled for installation on both lots.

The W. 6th St. lot already has been opened to autos, although meters have not been installed.

The board also authorized a $610 expenditure by the Board of Public Utilities to renew the gravel and sand beds in two of the six filter beds in the water department treatment plant in Klondyke. The board said it will use 12 tons of gravel and 96 tons of sand. The cost for each material is $5.65 a ton. The beds are renewed every 10 or 12 years, according to Water Supt. Frank K. Robinson.

Library Stocks Filmstrips Appropriate For Christmas

Fifteen special visual aids to enliven Yuletide programs have been stocked by the Carnegie Public Library, Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said. For the youngest age group three new filmstrips are highly recommended:

"Christmas With Carol and Peter," "Christopher Mouse" and "A Puppy for Christmas."

Middle-sized youngsters should enjoy "When the Littlest Camel Knelt," "The Meaning of Christmas" and "The Christmas Story." Many of the materials are appropriate for both young and old or have commentaries prepared for two different age groups.

These include "Christmastide" and a "Christmas In Other Lands Series" — England, Germany, Mexico, and Norway.

The complete words of six famous Christmas carols are included on a filmstrip, "Hymns of the Nativity." This should be very helpful when there are not enough carol books to pass out for group singing. A fine commentary on the origin of Christmas carols is also available for programs for adults. It includes filmstrip and disc.

Sound moving pictures are a fine way to provide a party atmosphere. Leading the list is the famous tale originated by Charles Tazewell, "The Little Angel." This teaches the importance of real sacrifice and giving on the part of a child. For children's groups this can be shown with "Puss In Boots" to complete a full 40-minute program. The latter is the famous French story retold with animated puppets. Also with juvenile appeal are "Little Gray Neck," an animated story of a duck; "The Monkey and the Organ Grinder," and "Mother Rabbit's Family." Mission study groups can use "Congo Basin," story of life in hot, wet Africa; "Thailand, Land of Rice," and "Report on Puerto Rico."

Sixteen-minute features are in stock this month on "Brazil," "Argentina," "Pakistan," "Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons," and also a fine study of conservation. The latter is entitled "Yours Is the Land." Men's groups who relish the adventure to be found in war and history epics should book one of the following: "Air Defense Command of the Canadian Air Force," "The American Revolution" and "Marco Polo's Travels." The "Football Parade of 1957" is the sports feature of the month. Always wash shrimp-in-the-shell before cooking it. To prepare, drop a pound of the seafood into boiling water, then simmer about five minutes. Seasonings for "boiling" shrimp now comes packaged.

80 Attend Dinner

Rotary Club Gives Awards To 2 Gridders At Midland

Fullback and tackle Movie Smith and Quarterback Kenny Russell received individual awards when Midland Lincoln High School football squad and coaches were honored at the annual football banquet of the Rotary Club Thursday night at the Serbian National Home. About 80 attended.

Smith received a trophy from Martell Brothers as the outstanding senior lineman of the season. Gene Martell made the presentation.

Russell was awarded the Dave Alston Memorial Award, sponsored this year by Migliore Ford Sales, as the outstanding back. Frank Migliore presented the award.

Midland, with a season record of 7-1-1 is Beaver County Class A Champ and winner of the Mid-Western Athletic Conference for a second time.

The team will be honored with other trophies and dinners. This afternoon Coach Petchel was presented a trophy by the Geneva Alumni Association of Beaver County on behalf of the teams as county champs. On Dec. 16, the Leopards Boosters Club will present the team with a plaque.

The St. Anthony Club will honor the team with a dinner Dec. 17 and Ivan Tomic of Midland, a quarterback for the University of Pittsburgh, will be a guest. An assembly remains to be set at which Fenton Farly, Rochester High School principal, will officially present the Mid-Western Athletic Conference trophy.

Homer Paul, Rotary president, welcomed the team and guests and later introduced club officers. Principal William Walters, also a Rotarian, introduced Coaches Petchel, Charles Polce, George Ordich, Paul Farnan, Mel Laing, faculty manager, and Bill Haggerty, student manager.

Miss Rhonda Moll, physical education teacher, introduced the three senior cheerleaders, Jean Brown, Jerry Wirag and Joan Kukich. Guests also included Charles Henderson, band director, Leslie B. Roach, Board of Education president and Anthony Martell.

Supt. Ralph Jewell, a Rotarian, was program chairman.

Coach Petchel introduced the 20 players. Frank D'Eramo, senior, guard, was unable to attend. Those present included Smith, Russell, and guard Gene Gerra, all co-captains. Gene Epley, tackle. Lou Hapach, Martin Schulte, Bill White and Rudy Krivoshia, halfbacks; Charles Joseph and Joe Migliore, fullbacks, Gene Lake, Bill McGeehan and Bernard Vukelich, ends; Francis Sopko, guard, and Barney Silverman, center. All are seniors.

Others were Bob Krizan, fullback, John Minehart and Ron Perkins, both tackles, juniors, and Bob Love, tackle and a sophomore. Looking back over the season, Petchel said the team had eight returning letterman and things may have looked good but to coaches "from the sidelines, things looked difficult."

Looking ahead to next season, Petchel said things may not appear too good since there will be only four returning lettermen. There are seven juniors from which to build a nucleus and there will be about 20 boys coming up from the reserve squad.

Russell, on behalf of the team, presented Petchel with a gift.

Lloyd Deffenbaugh, high school music supervisor and Rotarian, led singing. The invocation was given by Bill Moll. The dinner was prepared and served by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of St. George Serbian Orthodox Church.

Entertainment followed, presented by Prof. Walter Biberich of Westminster College. Dr. Zanvel Sigal will be program chairman at the next club meeting Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at Larry's Restaurant.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I had to take a stiff drink to get up the courage to write this letter but my mind is clear and I hope you will print it. I ruined my daughter's life because I was stubborn and ignorant. Maybe another mother can learn something from my horrible mistake.

When Mary Elizabeth was 16 I caught her and her boy friend in the act of heavy necking. They had just returned from a beach party and were wearing swimming suits. It was disgraceful.

I threw him out of the house and kept Mary Elizabeth up all night threatening and scolding. I made her quit the high school band because the boy was in it. I wouldn't let her go out with him or anyone else.

Her school work fell down and she lost interest in everything. All the kids knew she couldn't accept invitations so after awhile she was left out of everything.

Mary Elizabeth quit high school in her senior year, only weeks before her graduation. She got a job as a grocery clerk. All her ambition and interest in life disappeared. Now she's 34—a nervous, sour old maid. She's a confirmed man-hater and won't fix herself up or even buy clothes.

The family doctor told me I ruined this girl's life. He said I should never have cut her off from young people—that getting caught was punishment enough. He said I should have given her a chance immediately to prove she could be trusted.

Take my advice, Mothers—if your daughter disappoints you as mine did, don't torture her with reminders. Help her to make a future. I wrecked my daughter's life and I can never forgive myself.

BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER.

Pointed Head

Dear Ann: I've been reading your column for a long time and have decided this world is sure full of crazy people.

I have a solution to most of the troubles in America. Why not round up these boys who get girls into trouble, the husbands who cheat on their wives, the young loafers on almost every street corner in the country and put them all in the Army?

This way, society would be safe from them and they'd be where they would have to toe the mark—or else.

I think I have a point and I hope you will agree.—FIGURED OUT.

Dear Figured: You've got a point all right—but if you put your hair right it may not show.

How would you like to trust the national safety to a bunch of loafers and delinquents? The Army isn't a penitentiary but one of our national institutions and we want to be proud of the men in it.

Safe At Home

Dear Ann: Tell that lady who is mad at her husband because he sits in the window Saturday afternoons and watches the pretty girls as they come and go to the modeling school that she is all wet.

I had an old rooster who chased chickens for 62 years but he always came home to roost. With all his faults I loved him dearly and now that he is gone I miss him terribly.

I was a cateress in some of the wealthiest homes in the East and I found skeletons in every closet I opened. The fat cats did more than chase and look... they caught. Tell Mama so long as the guy is at home she has nothing to worry about.—MRS. J.P.J.

Confidentially

TO DESPERATELY IN LOVE: You need this man like you need a second row of toes. You say he drinks only when he's sad. Well, if he's sad seven nights a week, when is he glad? My advice is to head for the door before you find yourself in serious trouble.

TO DONE OUT: Sorry, Toots. I agree with your parents. You were old enough to run off, now paddle your own canoe and let that "darling" husband pay your bills.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Heart Attack Fatal

$7,914 Offer Accepted For Refuse Truck

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Safety Service Director Joseph F. Ross today awarded a $7,914 contract to the Road Machinery & Supply Co. of Cleveland to furnish the incinerator department with a 16-cubic yard "packer" body mounted on a GMC truck chassis for refuse collections.

Although the offer was $2,047 above the lowest of 3 bids received Monday by the Board of Control, the mayor, the director and Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon agreed that the type of "packer" body offered by the Cleveland concern will do a more efficient job and that the truck chassis on which it bid is more suited to the rugged job.

Net prices of the other two bidders were: Mike Turk, Inc., a Chevrolet chassis with a Pak-Mor "packer" body, $5,867, and Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., a Ford chassis, also with a Pak-Mor unit, $6,085.

The incinerator department now uses the Pak-Mor bodies. The equipment offered by the Cleveland concern is the Leach Packmaster body, manufactured in Oshkosh, Wis. In each case, the net price was determined by subtracting the amount the bidder offered the city for an old truck with a 13-cubic yard "packer" body.

Although the rated capacity of the three bodies is the same, Ross said he and McKinnon were convinced the Packmaster would do a more efficient job when they watched a demonstration of the two types. The Packmaster has heavier duty compacting equipment which can crush an old sofa or any other large object into a small space, but the Pak-Mor does not have this feature, he explained.

When one of the city's present "packer" trucks encounters a bulky object on a trash route it must pass it by to be picked up later by an open-bodied truck, Ross and McKinnon said. In addition, the compacting power of the Packmaster allows it to handle a larger volume of trash before it accumulates a load, which means fewer trips to the dump and a saving in labor costs and truck time, Ross said.

In the present Pak-Mor bodies, dry refuse sometimes becomes compacted ahead of the baffle plate that crushes the trash, which means it must be cleaned out manually each time the bed is emptied, Ross and McKinnon said. If the "stray" object is sturdy metal, it can cause damage to the body, they added.

The truck with the Packmaster body can proceed to its next stop, compressing refuse while it moves, but the Pak-Mor body must be operated while the truck is halted, Ross said.

The Packmaster body is loaded from the rear and from a comparatively low level, which means it is easy for incinerator crews to empty heavy refuse cans, Ross said. With the Pak-Mor, the employee must step onto the running-board to load the truck from the side, he added.

Ross also said the GMC truck has heavy duty features not listed on the types offered by the two local bidders. The GMC's front axle is rated for a 7,000-pound load, while the Chevrolet is rated for 5,000 pounds and the Ford is rated at 6,000, he said. The GMC also offers a larger clutch and a different spring arrangement, he said. The Cleveland concern bid only on the GMC chassis with the Packmaster body. The local suppliers both offered the Pak-Mor body.

The Cleveland concern said it will be able to deliver the new equipment in a maximum of 60 days, Ross said. Council provided $8,900 for the purchase.

Motorist Fails To Argue Way Out Of Arrest

A Cleveland arrested early today on Route 30 for driving with no operator's permit and with improper license plates had a good logical story for both violations—but the trouble is that none of his stories proved to be true, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Frank R. Shray, the loquacious motorist, was lodged in City Jail awaiting a chance to explain the alleged violations to Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

When Shray was halted at 12:20 this morning, he was found to have no driver's license and he was operating a 1951 Buick on plates issued for a 1952 Chevrolet, the patrol said.

Shray said he was on his way to Cleveland to attend funeral services today for a son, who died Monday, the patrol said. He declared he recently passed an Ohio driver's license exam, but had lost the learner's permit stamped by the examiner for temporary use as a license.

Explaining the unusual license plates, he said he purchased the car Friday at Pittsburgh, but cannot obtain a title until the car is paid for. Consequently, he cannot obtain license plates, he explained.

When the patrol reminded Shray that the stories about the funeral and the operator's permit could be checked, "he admitted he was lying about both," officers reported. He admitted he last held a driver's license four years ago in Pennsylvania, the patrol said.

Telephone Firm Wins Verdict On Easement

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court Jury late Thursday afternoon returned a verdict for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in an easement case involving property used by the utility for 55 years.

The trial began Wednesday morning before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

OEA To Elect Officers

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the Ohio Education Assn. convention vote today for new officers. Ten Ohio school boards will be honored for adopting personnel policy statements.

Harland B. Horton, principal of South High School in Akron, is unopposed to succeed Lakewood's Sylvia Todd as OEA president.

Unopposed for the vice presidency now held by Horton is Robert P. Murphy, superintendent of Guernsey County schools.

At a dinner tonight, sponsored by OEA's department of classroom teachers, 10 school boards will be cited for having written personnel policies of high quality. They are those of Barnesville, Brookfield (Trumbull County), Canton Local (Stark), East Cleveland, Fairport Harbor, Hudson (Summit), Liberty Union (Fairfield), Three Rivers (Coshocton), Tipton City and Warren.

OEA achievement citations were presented to Akron, Alliance, Ash-tabula, Cambridge, Celina, Cincinnati, Cuyahoga Falls, Euclid, Marietta, Franklin County, Greenfield, Massillon, Piqua, Struthers, Sylvania, Toledo, Trumbull County, Wooster and Youngstown.

Two members of the OEA executive committee were to be named today for three-year terms, and only two nominees were presented. They are high school teachers Christ F. Geckeler, of Hamilton, and Harry Schaller, of Akron.

Ohio is assured of one directorship in the National Education Assn., for a three-year term, and the only nominee is Lucille Carroll, a high school teacher at Wooster.

The state will get an additional NEA directorship if it has sufficient memberships in the state.

and for this possible post an election race developed. Two were nominated—Jennie L. Davis, an elementary teacher in Cincinnati, and Margaret Berry, a high school teacher at Kent.

Of the eight places on the Educational Council, a research policy group, four must go to classroom teachers. As only four in this category were nominated, they are assured of election. They are Martha Barrett and Fred Schlamm, both high school teachers in Cincinnati; Cleo B. Warstler, and elementary teacher at Columbus, and Grace Jones, an elementary teacher at the Lucas Local School, Mansfield.

For the other four places there are eight candidates: Glen Booth, principal of Oakville Elementary School, Mayfield; Kenneth Crim, director of research for Montgomery County schools, Dayton; H. ## Last Driving Lesson, Woman Of 70 Declares

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Helen Austin, 70, says she's taken her last driving lesson because:

Thursday she was driving with her instructor when the car jumped a curb and smashed into a crowded cafe. The car toppled the main roof beam and the structure collapsed like a house of cards. Part of the building fell on another car parked outside.

Twelve persons were injured and damage was estimated at $30,000. Mrs. Austin's instructor was lucky. He was sitting in the back seat. The right front of the sedan was crushed.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

New York TV Plays Maintain Excellence

WNTA's "The Play of the Week" is now in its eighth week and it has had an astonishing record of excellence. Week in and week out, for those of us who have more than 12-year-old minds, WNTA has been coming up with marvelous productions of adult plays.

Just last week, it was John Crosby, the Irish Players lighting up the screen with the exuberant and moonlit poetry of Paul Vincent Carroll's "The White Steed." It's been a long time since the pure delights of language have resounded out of the TV screen.

"I HAVE BEEN born out of warriors, poets, saints and heroes; am I to bear children to a servant?" cries Nora.

When have you heard language like that — or, more importantly — thoughts like that, even on Broadway which has been so largely dedicated to junk since "The White Steed" was a commercial success there in 1939?

This is the play about clerical fascism in Ireland. There is a good old priest supplanted by the bad new zealot who starts vigilance committees and he's "down with the drink, down with the dancin', down with love makin', a solid Catholic nation for a holy Catholic people, and a dig at the wee handful of Protestants in every line."

Father Shaughnessy, played by Tim O'Connor, raises the very devil with the parish, making raving wolves out of his harmless sheep.

IT'S A RAGING, passionate, lyrical play with a heroine who is full of heart and large utterance and Irish vehemence.

Of course, it takes a miracle to straighten matters out and you get the feeling that the Irish playwrights lean rather heavily on Divine intervention to get them out of their dramatic predicaments. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, "The White Steed" has got both guts and poetry, two ingredients grievously absent from our theater for 20 years.

The characters — the gentle old canon, the unbending young priest, the Irish girl, the cowardly schoolmaster, the steely inspector — are all drawn with bold, true, single strokes like Diego Rivera's peasants.

The cast put it on with only 20 days' rehearsal and, though they blew a line here and there, they were truly marvelous.

FRANK CONROY was just as the canon, once played by Barry Fitzgerald; Helena Carroll, the playwright's daughter, was Nora (and marvelous she was); Neal Fitzgerald played her father with linear single-minded majesty; Lester Rawlins was a ramrod as Inspector Toomey; Dennis Dillon was human as the wavering schoolmaster, and Tim O'Connor a flame of rampant clericalism as Father Shaughnessy.

THE WEEK BEFORE "The Play of the Week" was "The Waltz of the Toredors," by Jean Anouilh, and here the mood was deliciously French and the tone one of baroque irony.

This is the delightful tale of the general who avoided consummating his great love for 17 years when, alas, it was too late.

It's full of lovely lines. I find written on my notes such fragments as:

The general to his secretary: "You were put in my hands by Father Ambrose who vouched for your morality and your handwriting."

Or the wife in despair to the general: "Why don't you bite me all over like a young terrier?" "I lost my teeth, confound it."

This scene between husband and wife, in which they bare conjugal infidelity like fangs, is a great comic masterpiece full of tragic overtones. Hugh Griffith who originated the role of the general in London played it again here and was superb.

His wife was played by one of my favorite actresses — Mildred Natwick. And Dr. Bonfant was played with a sort of malevolent good nature by John Abbott.

THE PLAY fits together beautifully — its constancies of humanity and inconstancies of husbands and wives and lovers, coming out exactly on schedule as inevitably as flowers in the spring and, thank the Lord, they let it run its allotted time.

The great thing about these fine plays is that they are presented in their entirety, full blooded and full fleshed.

Arthur Miller has complained that the recent "Doll's House," cut to an hour and a half on television, drained "half the emotional, philosophical and human values" out of it.

"Only one thing is lost by digesting great works," said Mr. Miller, "and it is possibly the main thing, namely the depth of experience one might find in the originals."

"That 'depth of experience' in these uncut works might be the reason they are so emotionally satisfying; they live with you and enrich you and you are missing something in not watching them."

You haven't much of an excuse if you live in New York because "The Play of the Week" is on 8 to 10 p.m. Mondays to Fridays; 10 to 12 p.m. on Saturday, and 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Eventually the plays will be syndicated to what I devoutly hope is a much larger audience.

Chamber At Midland Prepares For Election

Ballots for the annual election of the Board of Directors and officers of the Midland Chamber of Commerce were mailed Thursday afternoon, Wilbert Basinger, secretary, said.

Some 12 directors, including officers, will be elected.

Terms To End For 4 Serving In City Boards

The terms of four members of unsalaried municipal boards and commissions are scheduled to expire at midnight Dec. 31, making them subject to appointment by Mayor-elect Bert H. Goodballet when he takes office Jan. 1.

The expiring terms are held by: C. Frank Dales on the Board of Health.

Alvin T. Babb on the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Louis Yanni on the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners.

William J. Bamer on the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners.

There are no expiring terms on a fifth agency — the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Public Library.

Expiration dates are staggered so that a few run out at the end of each year. At the end of 1954, for instance, only two expired. Four ran out at the end of 1955, five expired as 1956 ended, seven ran out at the end of 1957 and three expired at the close of 1958.

Hold-over members of the Board of Health are Dr. Keith Rugh, whose term runs through 1960; Mrs. Ila Finney Johnston, 1961; Dr. C. M. Mayberry, 1962, and Emil R. Liebschner Jr., 1963. Howard Claypool is clerk, appointed by the board.

Other members of the Civil Service Commission are Donald I. Burcham, 1961, and Atty. Ben H. Berman, 1963. Terms are for six years. Collin L. Neal is secretary, elected by the commission.

Hold-over members of the Sinking Fund Commission are William B. Cooper, 1960; Gordon E. Starkey, chairman, 1961, and C. Walter Ashbaugh, 1962. Terms are for four years. William Gaston is clerk, named by the commission.

He Made Wrong Turn And Landed In Pool

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP)—TV producer Bob Finkel made an emergency call to his swimming pool company Thursday.

"My filter is clogged," he told them. He wasn't kidding. An automobile was in his pool. Finkel produces and co-directs the Dinah Shore Show. "I gave my 11-year-old daughter, Terry, the keys to my wife's Volkswagen and told her that a service man would come and pick it up for servicing," he said. "I went back to sleep. Soon she came and awakened me and said, 'There's a man in our pool.'" Finkel said he got to the pool just in time to see John Zebelo, the service man, climbing out of the tiny car—dripping wet. Zebelo, Finkel said, had just made a wrong turn on the driveway.

Father Takes Sick Girl From Hospital, Is Held

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A father whisked his one-month-old daughter, seriously ill with whooping cough, out of a hospital isolation room Thursday. He was caught and arrested by police two hours later at a relative's home nine miles southeast of here. Stark County sheriff's deputies charged Thomas Rorer, 29, with intoxication and resisting arrest.

He was held in the county jail. Rorer told officers he planned to take the girl, Debra, to a Cleveland hospital because he felt hospital authorities here did not know what was wrong with her. The child was described as in "poor" condition at Aultman Hospital. She had been admitted Monday. A nurse said "she is a very sick little girl." The greatest number of hurricanes occur in the West Indies and the China Sea.

'King-Sized' Leopards Impressive . . .

As impressive as Midland's new gymnasium was the home team that played there Tuesday night. The new athletic plant at Midland is a beauty, but the well-balanced, king-sized Leopard basketball team stole our attention in a hurry.

The 1,500 fans who sat in on the Midland-Wellsville game Tuesday could only go away mumbling to themselves about how good Coach George Hamilton's latest edition is. However, Hamilton, who has been the most successful coach based on a won-lost record in the district over the years, has never been an optimist.

A fan overheard Hamilton say the other night: "We have a good chance to win the section." But that is all he would say.

Section 8 is stronger this season all the way around, especially at New Brighton, which sports Cal Sheffield, voted the outstanding player in the section last year. Hamilton has reason to be cautious.

The Leopards will floor the tall.

Local Cagers Star In College . . .

SEVERAL FORMER district cage stars are performing on college hardwoods this season.

Bob Dawson, East Liverpool's clever cager of a few years ago, is performing for the high-flying Bowling Green Falcons who rolled to an easy victory in their opener with Hillsdale College of Michigan this week.

Dave Brookes, Chester High's scoring ace of last year, is a regular at Malone College in Canton. Malone gained the finals of the Grace College (Indiana) tournament last weekend, losing to Huntington College of Indiana in the final 71-68.

City League Ready To Go . . .

THE CITY Basketball League is set to go.

One team seems to be "loaded for bear." Alex's Carry-Out lists an all-star outfit led by two former Geneva College stars, Stan Yukich and Bill Blair. Other members of the squad include Potter stars of the past — Jim Harris, Bill Thornberry, Jim Conrad, Jim Jenkins, Alex Cunningham, Bob Johnson, Gus Dauka and the veteran city league campaigner Jack Green.

Pete Freed's also boasts some top talent in George Parfitt, Bob Bickle, Frank Chan and George Hale.

The Chester Merchants, last year's champs, are back again and list Ted Robinson, voted the most

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE DICK Groat Major League All-Stars, a group of professional baseball players, are seeking basketball games with area teams. Anyone wishing to card the baseball stars should contact Paul Smith, Sports Store, 772 Penn Ave., Wilkensburg, Pa.

The baseball players, who are taking a crack at the hardwood sport, include Groat, Roy Face, Ron Kline, Jerry Lynch, Chuck Tanner, Paul Smith, Bob Del Greco and Don Hennon, former Pitt star.

QUENTIN SCHMIDT and Cecil Allison, former South Side grid stars, have been awarded varsity valuable player in the city league a season ago.

Heading the Wellsville Merchants are Vince Giles, Dan Baldwin and Bob Bingham. Baldwin was one of the top high school pointmakers in Ohio last year. He will re-enter Kent State in January after sitting out this quarter.

Other teams in the six-team league include Millirons and George Bright Real Estate made of local basketball talent.

The league will play at Westgate this season instead of East Junior High. Three games will be played each Wednesday beginning at 8:30.

The league is being sponsored by the East Liverpool Sportsman's Club.

Red Sox Swap Catcher Daley To A's For Hurler Sturdivant

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —The major leaguers moved on to Miami today for their own conclave starting Monday, hoping to add a few more deals to the four they concluded during the minor league meetings in St. Petersburg.

The fourth was engineered between Boston's Red Sox and Kansas City's Athletics Thursday, with pitcher Tom Sturdivant going to Boston in an even exchange for catcher Pete Daley.

The trade was Boston's second in three days. On Tuesday, the Red Sox acquired outfielder Bobby Thomson from the Chicago Cubs in exchange for pitcher Al Schroll.

Baltimore, San Francisco and St. Louis were involved in the other trades. The Orioles sent pitcher Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes to the Giants for outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Gordon Jones and catcher Roger McCardell in the biggest trade of the meetings. The Orioles also swapped outfielders with the Cards, sending Bob Nieman for Gene Green.

Several discussed trades still were hanging fire and there was a possibility that at least two of three would be consummated during the major league meetings. Washington President Cal Griffith said he still had hopes of making the multiple deal with Los Angeles. That was the one in which the Dodgers had offered outfielder Ron Fairly, shortstop Don Zimmer and pitcher Danny McDevitt for slugger Roy Sievers, pitcher Russ Kemmerer and second baseman Rano Bertola.

The deal hit a snag when the Senators insisted on center fielder Don Demeter as a substitute for Fairly.

East Junior Grabs Opener

East Junior High opened its 1959-60 basketball campaign on a successful note with an overwhelming 41-17 victory over Beaver Local Thursday at the East End gym.

Beaver Local was held to one point in the first half as the half-time score showed East Junior on top 15-1.

The score jumped to 30-9 at the end of three periods.

A balanced scoring attack was led by Frank McComas who dropped in 10 points and Tom Kraft who chipped in with 9.

Potters Await Opener Friday With Alliance

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Jim Harris, returning as coach to the school where he was a basketball great, won't go out on a limb with any predictions on the 1959-60 campaign.

However, Harris did say East Liverpool will be "well represented" in basketball this season.

"These boys we are working with now have come along as expected," Harris said.

The new Potter coach, who is introducing a "deliberate type of offense," said that the players here have picked up the system faster than at the other schools where he used the same pattern.

"These kids seem to have more basketball sense," Harris added.

HARRIS IS faced with pulling East Liverpool out of the doldrums of losing basketball.

Last season the Potters finished with a 2-16 record, which included a 10-game losing streak.

As far as a starting five is concerned, Harris has been working with the five lettermen back from last season.

The veterans are led by Kenny Cunningham, the top scorer last season with 303 points. Cunningham set an East Liverpool record for Memorial Auditorium when he pumped in 34 points against Mansfield.

The other four lettermen are Bob Mackall, 5-foot-11, Craig Burbick, 6-foot-3, Ray Bigelow, who has shot up to 6-foot-6 and Kenny Miller, 6-foot.

Cunningham and Miller are only juniors, but played regular last season as sophomores.

Harris singled out each one of his prospective starters and said Cunningham has a "terrific shooting eye," but he will have to improve his defense.

"In our offense we will be picking a lot for Cunningham, leaving him open for a shot," Harris said.

"BIGELOW, who nursed an ankle injury when practice first got under way Nov. 1, has shown improvement, especially on the boards. However, he will have to watch his ankle as the season progresses."

"Mackall will have to learn to control his speed. He jumps well and at present is concentrating on defense."

"Burbick will have to pick up a little speed. He has been shooting good in scrimmages and practice. Craig should help us on the boards."

"Miller has been looking real good. His defense is improving and his shooting has been good."

"I have eight boys who will be playing all the ball," Harris said. Among those battling for a starting berth is Harold Adkins, 6-foot-1 who didn't play reserve or varsity ball last year but reported this season.

Joe Burke and Phil Chan, two seniors about 5-foot-11, also may wind up on the starting five before the season is over.

Chan showed during his tenure as a reserve player that he could hit on set shots from outside.

Others who have been working with the varsity squad are Mike Geon, a 6-foot-1 junior, along with Cookie Goodballet, 5-foot-8, a 2nd sophomore, Curt Rice, 6-foot-2, and Ed Six, 5-foot-11.

Twenty-two boys are out for both the varsity and reserve squads. Eleven are sophomores, six seniors and five juniors.

Frank Chan, another Potter great, is assisting Harris this season as reserve coach.

LOOKING over the schedule, Harris pointed to a crucial string of five straight road games.

After East Liverpool opens with Alliance at Memorial Auditorium next Friday night, the Potters will hit the road. The trip will begin at Wellsville on Dec. 12, followed by Warren, Canton McKinley, Midland and ending at Youngstown South on Jan. 9.

Harris returns to East Liverpool this year after an absence of 12 years, replacing John Karafka, who resigned last April.

The 32-year-old mentor played on the 1945-46 Potter team which gained the state semi-finals at Toledo.

After graduating from Baldwin-Wallace College and serving in the armed forces, Harris took his first coaching job at Pettisville, a Class A school near Toledo.

He posted two successive winning seasons of 18-7 and 19-3, then went on to Warrensville Heights, a Class AA school near Cleveland.

His first season at Warrensville he finished with a .500 mark, with a 10-10 record, but last season gave the school one of its top records with 15 victories against only five defeats.

Lucas Scores 34 In Second College Game

By The Associated Press

Ohio State stayed unbeaten Thursday night as sophomore Jerry Lucas scored 34 points to pace the Buckeye basketballers to a whopping 94-55 home court victory over Memphis State.

This was the Buckeyes' second game of the season. Tuesday they whipped Wake Forest 77-69.

In Thursday's intercollegiate game, the Ohio State cagers jumped off to a 9-0 lead, opened it to 32-10 and by intermission led 46-26.

Buckeye coach Fred Taylor commented that Memphis' Tigers "had the same trouble that we had in the first half of our opening game. They were so tense and tightened up it would be difficult to say how good a ball club they might be."

Ohio teams figured in six other games Thursday. Two were with out-of-state foes, both of which beat the Ohioans.

Michigan State, defending Big Ten champion, swamped Bowling Green 96-67 at East Lansing. Grove City, Pa., trimmed Mount Union 64-35 via a late surge.

Lance Olson led the Spartan victory push with 33 points. Bowling Green's Jimmy Darrow racked up 27. The BeeGees led 22-18 midway in the first half but by intermission the Spartans had a 44-38 edge.

Meanwhile, rivals Ohio University and Marietta battled on close terms through the first half but Ohio pulled away to an 89-72 win. Marietta's Sam Hirt was tops with 20 points. Bunk Adams tallied 19 for the victors.

In the first Ohio Conference game of the season, Ohio Wesleyan thumped Kenyon 82-61. The Bishops sewed it up with a 14-point run during the second half.

Capital University opened its season by crushing Cedarville 93-63 as Capital's George Steele netted 30 points.

Findlay's Joe Hanauer led the Oilers on an 84-64 cruise over Wooster by scoring 21 points. Findlay now sports a 2-0 record.

DENNIS LEE, (third from left), Newell's captain and fullback this past football season, meets another fullback, Clarke Hinkle, an all-time professional great with the Green Bay Packers, who was guest speaker at an all-sports banquet in Newell Thursday night. Also greeting Hinkle were John Robinson, (extreme left), head basketball coach at Newell, and Pete Horosko, head football coach.

85 Hear Former Pro Grid Star At Newell High Fete

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"The two-platoon system has changed football and is good from a spectator's viewpoint, but the real football players go both ways," Clarke Hinkle, an all-time professional fullback, told 85 athletes and guests who attended an All-Sports banquet for Newell High athletes Thursday night.

Hinkle should be an authority on the game since he spent 15 years playing as a college star at Bucknell and later as an all-pro fullback with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League. "Jimmy Brown of Cleveland is a great back, but if he doesn't wear hip pads like he says then he isn't doing much blocking and that is why Milt Plum gets thrown for losses every once in awhile," Hinkle commented.

A native of Toronto, Hinkle reminisced over a brilliant gridiron career which started in 1926 at Bucknell University and ended in 1941 with the Green Bay Packers. He compared the game today to when it was played during his era. There were no field goal or punting specialists in those days, Hinkle said. "We just did those things as part of our job." (Hinkle led the National League in field goals in 1937 and 1938.)

In describing highlights of his college career, he recalled being selected on the East team for the annual Shrine game in San Francisco.

"We visited Children's Hospital in San Francisco where proceeds of the Shrine game go to help crippled children. When we saw the children crippled and in pain we became very serious about the game and all of the players went out and played their hearts out for those kids," he said.

In that Shrine game of 1932 Hinkle was voted the most outstanding player of the contest.

During his playing days at Bucknell he was the leading scorer in the East with 128 points in 1929 and the same year scored 50 points in one game against Dickinson College.

Hinkle recalled his pro debut with Green Bay against the Chicago Bears. The Bears had such stars as Red Grange and the immortal Bronko Nagurski, Minnesota's All-American.

Hinkle said he remembers vividly the day he became the first player ever to knock out Nagurski, who was billed as "indestructible."

"The day I knocked him out we were playing the Bears at Green Bay, Wis." "I got the ball from a short punt position and started around end. Heading towards the sidelines I cut up field and Nagurski was coming at me wide open."

"We hit and Nagurski caught my shoulder in the face. He knocked me back a good 10 yards but Nagurski was out cold," Hinkle quipped.

"I played against some of the greats, including Grange, Cliff Battles of West Virginia Wesleyan fame, Whizzer White, Sammy Baugh and Sid Luckman," he added.

"However, Hinkle rates Don Hutson, the sensational pass catcher end with the Green Bay Packers, as the greatest football player he has ever seen."

"I never saw a man who could cover Hutson. He ran 100 yards with full football equipment under 10 seconds," Hinkle asserted.

Speaking in Newell last night, Hinkle recalled his only major injury in football came while he was in high school when he broke his leg playing at Chester in 1926.

Among some of his achievements as a professional player, Hinkle led the National League in scoring in 1938, was named all-time pro fullback by the Helms Hall of Fame of Los Angeles, named all-time fullback for the Green Bay Packers, was enshrined in Helms Hall of Fame at Los Angeles and was the all-pro fullback in 1936, 37, 38 and 41.

He is now a salesman for the Standard Machine Supply Co. of Pittsburgh and still resides in Toronto.

The banquet, held at the Newell Legion home, was sponsored by the Newell Boosters Club and the dinner was served by mothers of the athletes.

Members of the football, basketball and baseball teams were introduced by Pete Horosko, head football coach.

The Rev. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool was toastmaster and introduced John Robinson, head basketball coach, who spoke briefly.

Other guests included Asst. Supt. Robert Lindsey and members of the school board J. Fred Allison, Robert Miller and John Boyd.

Invocation was given by the Rev. O. F. Haynes and benediction by the Rev. Ellsworth Crispens. Paul Dunlevy is president of the Boosters Club.

Flowers for the tables were donated by Ray Clendenning.

Speed and deception are the trademarks of Flowers, a pre-law student whose shifty, stutter style of running enabled him to rack 773 yards on the ground. He also distinguished himself as pass catcher, blocker, line backer and quick-kick specialist.

Mott, who once thought he might have to forego football because of recurring dizzy spells, instead left the dizziness to his opponents. He carried the ball 93 times for 519 yards, returned kicks for 171, scored five times and also starred as passer and receiver.

Ohio Collected $7 Million From 8 Race Tracks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although more money was wagered this year than last, Ohio's thoroughbred horse racing tracks didn't do quite as well, the Racing Commission says.

The total amount wagered on thoroughbreds jumped from $97,248,923 in 1958 to $101,030,802 this year, the commission said, but several factors must be considered.

For one thing, there were more days of racing—330 this year to 308 last year. And there were nine races permitted every day, while last year nine races were carded only on Wednesdays, Saturdays and holidays.

Attendance this year was 1,596,857 at eight tracks, compared with 1,637,390 in 1958 at seven tracks.

Other candidates bidding for top berths are Jim Hartshorn, Ron Watt, Jerry Bush, Jack Istnick, Dick Crossland, Miles Lemley and Jim Massey, all juniors.

Hinton said Woods, Bruno, Watt and Hartshorn probably will be four of the five starters, with the fifth man still undetermined.

Robinson and Bush are waging a battle for the fifth spot on the starting quint.

Istnick and Massey may move into starting roles, while Crossland is one of the best defensive players on the team, Hinton pointed out.

In a pre-season scrimmage this week, Hartshorn and Robinson did most of the scoring.

Two Berths Are Awarded To Syracuse

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's explosive halfback, is a repeater and unbeaten Syracuse is the only team with two representatives on The Associated Press 1959 All-America football team.

The team, representing every section of the country, is announced today after thorough sifting of the recommendations of 12 regional boards of newsmen.

Cannon, winner of the Heisman Trophy and top pick of the pros, heads a backfield unit which includes his Sugar Bowl opponent, Charley Flowers of Mississippi; versatile Jim Mottly of Arkansas; and Bob Schloredt, the one-eyed quarterback who guided Washington into the Rose Bowl.

Syracuse, the nation's No. 1 team, provided a pair of the huskies for the 1½ ton line—Fred Mautino, 191 - pound, pass-snagging end, and Roger Davis, 228-pound guard whose alert line-backing featured the Orange-men's rugged defense.

Opposite Mautino at end is Marlin McKeever, one of the ferocious twins from Southern California, and the other guard is Bill Burrell of Illinois, a former fullback. The tackles are Don Floyd of Texas Christian and Dan Lanphear of Wisconsin. The center is Georgia Tech's Maxie Baughan.

Cannon, 23 and father of three, has been the chief offensive weapon of an LSU team which has lost only one game in two years. Shotputter, weightlifter and a 9.5 second sprinter, he was the team's "climax" man — always coming through in the big moments.

A highlight was his 89-yard punt return in the final minutes for the touchdown which pulled out a 7-3 victory over Mississippi. He gained 598 yards rushing and returned punts, kickoffs and intercepted passes for an additional 827 yards. He averaged 40.3 yards on his punts.

Schloredt, who lost sight of his left eye in a childhood accident, is another all-around performer, equally effective on offense and defense. Acclaimed the best pass defender in the Far West, he also passed for 733 yards and five touchdowns, ran for 225 yards and scored 54 points.

Speed and deception are the trademarks of Flowers, a pre-law student whose shifty, stutter style of running enabled him to rack 773 yards on the ground. He also distinguished himself as pass catcher, blocker, line backer and quick-kick specialist.

Mottly, who once thought he might have to forego football because of recurring dizzy spells, instead left the dizziness to his opponents. He carried the ball 93 times for 519 yards, returned kicks for 171, scored five times and also starred as passer and receiver.

Chester's Chapko Gains 2nd Eleven

WHEELING (AP) — Three juniors are among the seven linemen named today to the Class AA All-State football team announced by Bill Bibb of Wheeling, chairman of the selection board for the West Virginia Sportswriters Assn.

Steve Chapko, Chester's outstanding tackle, was named on the second all-state team.

The unusual number of juniors includes tackles Curtis Carpenter of Sissonville and Danny Eismon of Charles Town, and guard Charles Isaacs of Lookout.

Voted captain of the mythical Class AA team was Willie Milam, 165-pound backfield star of the Mullens Rebels. Mullens and Mount Hope fought to a scoreless tie Thanksgiving Day in the double A playoff game and share the 1959 championship.

Don Smith, 6-3, 180-pound end from Huntington Vinson, was the only boy to make the All-State team the second straight year.

West Union's Ray Dennison, 6-feet and 200 pounds, is the biggest man on the Class AA honor roll. He was an end.

The other first team linemen are guard Sherman Winter of Ripley, 185 pounds, and center Doug Long of Williamson, a 195-pounder.

The backfield also includes Gary Keedy of Keyser, Sam Warwick of Mount Hope and Dale Miller of Point Pleasant.

Bill Allara, Matewan guard, was on this season's second All-State team. He made the No. 1 unit last year.

The comparably light All-State line combines its aggressiveness with a fine all-around backfield this year.

The first 11 Class AA selections will be honored in Charleston Monday night at the 15th annual Sports Writers Association Dinner of the writers association. They will receive certificates.

The second team includes Doug Francis of Williamson and Jackie Cramblitt of Hurricane at ends, Steve Chapko of Chester and Henry Kizer of Mount Hope at tackles, Allara and Jack Schrader of Clarksburg Notre Dame at guards, and backs Dick Frum of Spencer, Dick Lettridge of Hinton, John Sipple of Williamson and Jerry Acord of Monongah, who was named captain.

Gene Zara, Philippi back, was named captain of the third team. The others in the backfield are Kenny Hay of Ceredo-Kenova, Al Rinehart of St. Marys and Calvin Wolfe of Iaeger.

In a recent study of people who had purchased homes within a 90-day period, 60 per cent said that newspaper ads were their principal source of information about homes for sale. Real estate advertisers know that people shop newspapers — that's why, on a typical Sunday last spring they placed 2,700,000 lines of advertising in U. S. newspapers.

Southern County Chairman

Richard G. Brian Heads Area's Polio Fund Drive

Richard G. Brian of Vine St. was named again today to direct the annual March of Dimes drive Jan. 1-31 in southern Columbiana County.

Brian will serve as county chairman with William Wark of Salem, who will head the drive in the northern area.

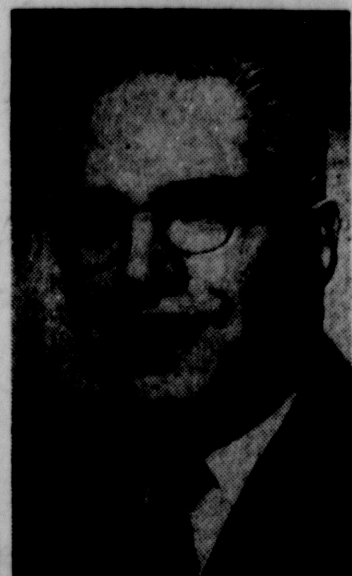

Their appointments were announced by E. Allan McKeever, former East Liverpool mayor and chairman of the County Chapter of the National Foundation, formerly known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Operator of a W. 5th St. men's store and a former county commissioner, Brian has been active in the annual polio fund drive for several years. Community chairmen will be named later by Brian and Wark, McKeever explained.

Since development of the Salk vaccine helped to control infantile paralysis, the National Foundation has broadened its service to take in research to discover the causes of birth defects and arthritis as well as continuing care for polio sufferers.

Despite the Salk vaccine, there was a high incidence of infantile paralysis in the United States in the last year, notably among persons who had not been immunized, McKeever pointed out.

Although the disease has been curbed in recent years, the local

University Has Forms

2nd Quarter Enrollment Opens In Kent U. Branch

New students desiring to enroll for the second quarter of the East Liverpool Center of Kent State University may secure application blanks by writing the extension division of the university.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts, chairman of the advisory committee, said application forms for new students will not be available at his office. Those planning to enroll for the first time must write directly to the Division of Extension and Special Activities, Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, he explained.

Registration of present students for the winter quarter will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. Dec. 17 in the high school auditorium, he added. Some 90 students were enrolled in the first quarter.

Classes for the winter quarter will begin Wednesday, Jan. 6, with 6 courses to be offered.

They include 2 English composition courses starting at 6 and 7:25 p. m., 2 History of Civilization classes beginning at 6 and 8:45 p. m., and Introduction to Business course beginning at 6 p. m. and a General Psychology course starting at 7:25 p. m.

Both English courses will be for students who took English courses in the first quarter. No prerequisites are required for the other classes. The psychology course replaces an Introduction to Education class held in the first quarter.

For students in the cadet and elementary education programs, the university recommends English and psychology courses while those in secondary school education should take English and psychology or English and History.

Those enrolled in the fine and professional arts programs should take English and Psychology or History or History and Psychology while business administration students should enroll for Management, English and History or Management and English.

New students are eligible to enroll for the English courses if they have a credit of "C" or better in a quarter or semester of college composition from an accredited institution.

The fee for students taking up to 8 quarter hours will be $10.50 per quarter hour while a flat fee of $90 will be charged for those enrolled for 9 or more quarter hours.

The teaching fee for students taking 6 quarter hours will be $63 while the fee for those with 12 quarter hours will be $90, plus a student teaching fee of $3 per quarter hour for a total of $126.

The library fee for those taking up to 8 quarter hours will be $1.50. No fee is charged for applications by high school graduates but students with transfer credit will be charged $5 with the fee to accompany the personal application.

Books will be available for purchase during the registration period.

"Hamlet," in 1940, was the first foreign-made motion picture to win an Academy Award in the United States.
